Tsuki

Tsuki is the playful result of the combination of design, craftsmanship and engineering. Available in two sizes and both teak natural and teak scuro as a finish, Tsuki is the newest member of our family of side tables. It's unique shape both sets it apart and allows it to be easily combined with almost any other Manutti collection.

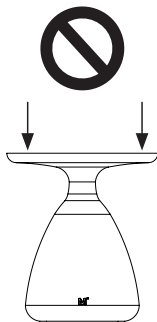

Here is how to start your outdoor moments of peace and connection under the sun.

Safety

WARNING:

Do not use a high pressure cleaner to clean your furniture.
This may damage your furniture.

IMPORTANT:

Do not sit or lean on the edges of the table!

Materials

Wood is a natural material that is characterized by natural irregularities. These irregularities come in many forms ranging from burls, and knots to splits and cracks. Wood that has been used in a piece of furniture has already gone through an extensive selection program and elaborate preparation process, but its appearance will continue to change over time. Exposure to sun and rain will cause the typical greying of teak, while dry conditions may cause teak to crack or split.

Proper maintenance with Manutti Care products can reduce these changes to a minimum, but it is impossible to stop these natural processes from happening.

In the end, much of the charm of wooden furniture can be attributed to these naturally occurring irregularities.
